“ Today you were to be 39 years of age. Today you should had walked in with a big surprise party awaiting your arrival. Today your boys and I were to wake up to you screaming it's your Birthday with breakfast. Today I sit alone with you not here. I sit in a bed with tears flooding my face because I cant celebrate the day with you. I never thought this is what will be and it is what we see. I love you. I miss you. I'm angry with the world. I'm lost and sad. I want you home babe. I want you to come lay next to me and kiss my head. I want to hold your hand. They say it gets easier in time but they lie. Nothing gets easier with you gone. I'm in need of you. I just want you how . I hope your enjoying your day up there. I'm not enjoying it down here. But we made the most of your day. I will always celebrate you. I love you handsome freckled face man.

“ I love you more then ever. It's been a year since your passing I still cant believe. My heart still aches for you. Here next week will be one year since I laid you to rest. I remember the first time we met to the last time we spoke. My love for you is never ending. My strength is only gotten stronger. Our sons are beautiful creatures that we had created together. Baby I wish I knew why your no longer physically next to me. I know spiritually your right there. I want you home. I want to dance baby. I love u soooooo much. I want you to know you were and are amazing person. Come visit me.please. I need that. I promise to always keep you alive in our home in the community. Watch over your babys. Love you freckled face man.

“ I love you so much more then life its self. At times its so hard not to think about the pain I go through of not having you here. Not hearing you smelling or watching you. It hurts in more ways then you could imagine. The thought that I have to go through this harsh world alone is completely terrifying. Im sure that your up there saying why she crying why she always thinking about her pain. Im the one up here not able to kiss my son good night , im the one gone dont get that chance to live that happy life and dance. So why she crying. Why couldnt she understood the pain and the demons i was fighting. I think about this. In ways i feel little selfish. But babe this is why im crying and this is why im in pain. That handsome freckled face brought so much laughter and light into other lives we dont get that. We created a child that im here to raise like a man on my own with out you being there to help me guide him. Im crying because you never seen the potential that you had. You werent given the chance to make the change. Im crying because lets be real i came 2nd. Because the demon had you by the throat. You were so close to kicking it off of you because i was seeing it. Why am i crying is because when i lay down tonight i lay with empty bed i dont get to hope your comming home anymore. Im crying because the house is cold with out you. Im crying because the one man that i truly loved and fought a battle with for 23 years is gone. Im crying because i dont get to watch you sleep. I dont get to hear your voice. Im crying because i dont know what to tell our boys. Im crying because i just wanted to be first in your life and i was almost there my chance was taken. Im crying because i cant kiss you again. I cant scream fight yell run love on you sleep with you cook for you laugh live build and be who we were again. I love you more then anything i needed you. I wanted you. I need you to come to me and let me feel that you are here. I just wanted you to come home.
