

Andrea Marie Jackson

September 8, 1978 - July 16, 2020

Andrea “Andi” Marie Jackson was born in Portland, Oregon, on September 8, 1978. She resided in Oregon City, and Milwaukie, Oregon.

Andi attended the University of Oregon for one year; and completed her aesthetics and nail license, after having her beloved son, Kobi.

She had an affinity for reading books. "There's nothing like the smell of a old book", she would say. Andi expressed herself with art; and enjoyed sharing her beautiful drawings with her loved ones.

Andi was a loving woman, who genuinely cared about all living things—children, animals, and plants—she extended great compassion and love for all beings alike. Andi was one with nature; and effortlessly exuded a natural-beauty.

With a magnificent laugh, and infectious personality, Andi would always be there to lighten the mood; especially for loved ones when they most needed it. She had a gift for seeing people’s true colors; and bringing out the best in others. She will be deeply missed.

Andi is survived by her 18 year old son, Kobi Clark; two sets of parents: Philip Jackson and Leslie Hughes; and David and Susan Jordan; grandmother, Marie Skinner; sisters, Kristina Kucharski (Jackson), and Ashley Green (Jackson); nieces, Aubrey, Kadence, and Addison; and nephew, Gavin.

“ This Weekend we celebrated you, Andrea! We did our best to let your full beauty shine within all of us and let out the expression of your life within art and music. Our "custom" recreation of grandma's dresses for family photos is just the start, next we're on to slip N slides!

As I spread your ashes today in the same place we celebrated you, I hope you will be reminded of 3 things.

You are loved by many.

You will never be forgotten.

You are irreplaceable.

Thank you for being my voice, and person through the beginning and middle of my journey.

Our connection supersedes this earth, you are my soul sister and forever best friend. Until we can meet again, I promise to keep you laughing and our people safe and loved.

Happy Birthday Andi Marie!
