“ It's been more than a decade since the funeral, and I still think of you often. Thank you again for everything you taught me and showed me through your actions and especially for showing me how to enjoy a sunny afternoon or appreciate a loyal dog. Your family remembers you and loves you, wherever you are.

“ I remember you and always will. You were a great man and I will never be able to express how proud I am to be your blood. You raised a good man for a son and a good woman as your daughter. I benefit from your wisdom and honor in my father and aunt. There is too much by far to say. Wherever you are in the universe, I hope you know these things.

“ To Joanie my Sister-in-Law and her family. While I did not have the opportunity to get to know Dick well, I always enjoyed my visits with him. Most often I would see him at the grocery store with his wife Rose and he always had a smile on his face and a story to tell. He never forgot to ask me how things were in the Army and reminded me he to was an Army solider and fought in World War II.

You were a special dad and husband and your family will cherish the memories and love
