“ I had the particular good fortune to have known Warren both as a colleague, community member and friend. He was an utter professional his entire working life. His commitment to supporting children and families was unwavering and well known. Some of Warren’s personal attributes that come easily to mind are his; loyalty, integrity, and a wonderful sense of grace. He also possessed a robust sense of humor and loved to have an adventure. We had some fun trips together over the years. Joseph Koziol.
